ABG (Association Bernard Gregory) is a non-profit organization founded in 1980. Its mission is to bring together doctorate holders and employers. To be more specific, it helps PhD students and PhD graduates from all scientific fields to steer their career. It also helps companies recruit PhDs. Its capacity for innovation and its customer-oriented approach result in a constant evolution of its services:

- training and coaching on career development and international mobility
- employment and recruitment support: a jobboard dedicated to the employment of doctorate holders in academia and in the industry
- networking on social media and through our networking events "Apéro Doc"

Since March 2008, a Franco-German branch office has been created to focus on researcher's mobility between France and Germany and more largely on the European level.
